CHINESE VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE ALL-STAR GAME FEATURES
LEYARD LED

Shenzhen Bao'an Stadium

After the great performance of the women's volleyball team in the Rio Olympic games, there is renewed energy in China for the game. The league's all star game was played in March and the Shenzhen Bao'an Stadium was filled with Leyard LED installations for both the opening ceremony and game play with court-side displays.

Bao'an Stadium is a multi-purpose stadium located in Shenzhen, China. Built to host matches of the women's football tournament at the 2011 Summer Universiade, the stadium has a capacity of 40,000 spectators. The stadium features a cantilever membrane roof to cover the seating areas and a network of steel supports which surround the stadium exterior, inspired by the extensive bamboo forests of southern China.
